In a towering modern building, it sits proudly on the ground level with large windows captivating passers by and drawing their eyes into the exquisite fit-out within. Previously used by a developer for home display purposes, the 82qm is stunning throughout with stone-look tiles, sparkling downlights, pristine white walls and timber accented ceilings.

It begins with a spacious waiting area at the front with built-in timber bench seats and inlets to the opposing wall where you can create a professional display. This leads to a generous and open tiled area where you could place a reception desk or meeting area. Adjoining this is a stylish black and white kitchen with black tile splashback, white stone benchtops, ample cabinetry, chic timber flooring, electric appliances and dishwasher.

Beyond here, the rear of this vast commercial space is nice and private yet luminous, with a display bathroom down the hallway, and a trendy tiled office with big sliding glass door, timber pillar, floor-length wispy curtains to the large window, cupboard, and suave pendant light.

At the very back there's a handy stationary cupboard/kitchenette with stone benchtops and plenty of sleek black cabinet space.

A flawless commercial space that's yearning for your next business venture, you'd better contact Emily Xiong today before it catches someone else's discerning eye.
