Here's a solid opportunity to secure approximately 40 acres of vacant rural land in a peaceful, private setting. With plenty of open space and natural features, it's well suited for anyone looking for a rural escape, a hobby block, or a place to run a few head of stock.

The property includes a spring-fed creek at the front and two more at the back, providing a reliable natural water source throughout the year. The land offers a mix of cleared areas and natural bush, giving you flexibility depending on how you'd like to use it.

Fencing is partially complete, with the western and southern boundaries finished and around half of the eastern side done. While there's currently no building permit in place, the property may suit recreational use, weekend visits, or be held as a long-term land investment.

If you're after space, privacy, and a quiet spot to unwind, this block is well worth a look! Get
