9 Ibsen Street, Aspley

Elevated Family Classic with Panoramic Views to the Glass House Mountains

Positioned high on one of Aspley's most desirable streets, this is an extraordinary opportunity to secure a substantial family home with breathtaking panoramic views stretching across the northern suburbs and through to the Glass House Mountains. Cherished by the one family for more than 50 years since new, the home is rich in warmth, character and potential.

Occupying a supremely elevated position that effortlessly captures cooling bay breezes, the home sits amongst a beautiful streetscape of established and near-new residences in one of Aspley's most sought-after pockets. Solidly constructed and deceptively large in scale, the home remains in largely original condition, providing the perfect canvas for buyers looking to renovate, modernise and capitalise on the exceptional location and outlook.

A wide entrance hall welcomes you into the lower level where an abundance of versatile space awaits. There is a large multi-purpose room, a separate sunroom or study, plus an additional multi-purpose room that could easily function as a ground floor bedroom option
