

16 Bernadette Boulevard, Batehaven

ONE FOR THE FAMILY

From the moment you walk through the front door, this home simply feels right. It's a well-thought-out layout that works for everyday family living, with three bedrooms located at one end of the home alongside a three-way bathroom, and a spacious central living area that has been extended to create a comfortable open-plan design. The main bedroom is well separated, offering good size, an ensuite and built-in robes - a great balance of privacy and practicality.

The double-sized front carport provides easy undercover parking with direct access to the front door, making day-to-day living, including the grocery run, that much easier. At the rear of the home, a generous undercover veranda and alfresco area enjoys a leafy outlook and creates the perfect space for entertaining, family get-togethers or simply relaxing outdoors.

A real bonus is the separate garage, set up with its own slow combustion heater, making it ideal as a man cave, she shed, workshop or teenage retreat. The block itself is a good size and fairly level, with clever use of retaining walls and screened raised garden beds - perfect for growing your own backyard produce. The home is also fitted with two instant gas hot water systems, so there's no shortage of hot water for a busy household.

LJ Hooker

Positioned in a popular price range, this property offers an excellent family set-up and will appeal to first home buyers, investors, or downsizers looking for a single-level home with easy access and minimal fuss.

Batehaven shops, Corrigans Reserve and the local beach are all just over 600 metres away by road - perfect for a quick swim or trying your luck with a fish for dinner. Batehaven continues to be a sought-after area with its own strong local shopping hub and is less than a 10-minute drive to the Batemans Bay CBD. Homes like this don't last long. Make your move - this one will be popular, I feel.
