Tree House: A Secluded Architectural Work of Art

Nestled away on an acre in Bayview's shared bushland, Tree House is an award-winning architectural masterpiece designed by acclaimed local architects Matt Elkan and Daina Cunningham of Incidental Architecture - crafted more like a sculpture than a building. Completed in 2018 and designed to honour its pristine setting, it appears to float among the trees, merging with the landscape in near-complete seclusion.

Warm birch ply and blackbutt floors infuse each space with an organic calm, while flawless custom joinery speaks to exceptional craftsmanship. The four-bedroom layout flows with effortless connection to the outdoors, leading to a tiered garden with vegetable beds, a fire pit and a 4-person Finnish sauna. Enveloped by bushland and diverse ecology, it offers an unrepeatable way of life where architecture and nature share an enduring connection, never to be built out. Located within an exclusive community pocket, moments to waterside cafés, eateries, yacht clubs, village shops, schools and express city buses.
