

202/47 Currong Street, Braddon

Inner-city precision in the heart of Braddon

Elevated above the pulse of Braddon, this residence delivers a refined inner-city experience where design, light, and location intersect effortlessly.

Clean architectural lines and full-height glazing create a space that feels open, sharp, and intentional. Natural light pours through, softening the contemporary finishes and giving the living zone a relaxed, understated confidence. The kitchen is streamlined and functional, anchored by quality appliances and a layout that works as well midweek as it does when entertaining.

The bedroom is privately positioned, offering a quiet retreat from the energy below, while the bathroom carries the same modern, low-maintenance aesthetic seen throughout.

Positioned within one of Canberra's most energetic precincts, you're surrounded by a curated mix of dining, cafés, and nightlife, all within walking distance, yet far enough removed to maintain a sense of calm when you need it.

A smart, design-led residence for those who value proximity,
