At the heart of the home, the open-plan kitchen, dining and living zone provides a spacious setting for the family to come together, complemented by a second living area that offers valuable separation for relaxing, entertaining or giving children their own space. Generous linen and storage cupboards throughout the home further enhance its everyday practicality.

Extending the living space is the impressive fully enclosed alfresco, a beautifully versatile area that offers far more than traditional outdoor entertaining.

Beyond the alfresco sits a spacious backyard with valuable side access, giving families plenty of room to enjoy the outdoors while adding another layer of practicality to this already well-considered corner allotment.

With a flexible family floorplan, excellent indoor-outdoor connection and a park-facing corner position, 11 Kipling Circuit offers the space to grow, the comfort to settle in and the convenience to enjoy for years to come.

Commanding a prominent corner position directly opposite St Genevieve Central Park, this beautifully presented home enjoys an inviting street presence, established front landscaping and a fenced frontage, while its position provides a wonderful sense of openness from the moment you arrive.
