Home B

Designed with comfort and accessibility in mind, this home offers a warm and inviting environment with wheelchair-friendly access. It comprises three generous bedrooms, a well-appointed bathroom, separate powder room and a spacious living area serviced by reverse-cycle heating and cooling.

Brand new carpets to the bedrooms and dining area, combined with slate flooring through the kitchen, dining and hallway, provide a practical and low-maintenance lifestyle.

Both homes benefit from passive design principles, ensuring they are naturally warm in winter and cool in summer, enhancing comfort while reducing energy consumption.

Outside, easy-care gardens create a peaceful setting, complemented by a covered alfresco area ideal for year-round enjoyment, while the enclosed double carport and generous block size provide ample space for family living.

Offering an extraordinary combination of accessibility, independence and flexibility, this is a rare opportunity to secure two thoughtfully designed homes that allow families to live together while maintaining privacy, comfort and quality of life.

Positioned in the family-friendly suburb of Fadden, 35 Dash Crescent enjoys close proximity to a range of quality schools, including Fadden Primary School and Caroline Chisholm School, as well as nearby Erindale College.

Convenient shopping and everyday amenities are just minutes away at Erindale Shopping Centre and Chisholm Village, while the larger Tuggeranong Town Centre offers major retail, dining and services. The home is also within easy reach of The Canberra Hospital and the Canberra Institute of Technology, with well-connected arterial roads providing a straightforward commute to Woden and the Canberra CBD.
