extensive preparation space and excellent storage. The scale of the open-plan design allows each zone to feel distinct while remaining connected, creating an effortless setting for everyday family life and entertaining.

Adding another dimension is the sun-filled music room, a beautiful space for piano, instruments or quiet retreat. Beyond is the oversized family living room, offering a more relaxed place to gather and unwind, with cleverly concealed doors opening to the adjoining sauna, bathroom and showers. Together, these multiple living zones give the home the flexibility to accommodate everything from formal occasions and large gatherings to music, movie nights and everyday family life.

Accommodation is equally well considered. A ground-floor bedroom/home office with ensuite offers flexibility for guests or multigenerational living. Upstairs, five bedrooms, a separate study and a generously proportioned living room ensure full privacy for everyone and ample space for shared moments and quiet retreat. The main suite is a haven of understated luxury, encompassing a spacious parents' retreat, walk-in wardrobe and a luxurious ensuite appointed with a premium TOTO smart toilet. Beautifully composed for rest and privacy, it offers a quiet sense of indulgence.

The home's leisure spaces reveal a further layer of thoughtful design. Concealed behind wardrobe within the downstairs family living room, a private wellness room incorporates a sauna, bathtub and shower, conveniently accessible after a swim or a match on the court. Outdoors, a waterfall brings gentle movement and sound to the natural-style swimming pool, while the full-size tennis court sets the scene for long afternoons of recreation. Low-maintenance synthetic lawns complete an inviting setting for outdoor living.

Ducted air conditioning, extensive underfloor heating and abundant storage underpin the home's everyday comfort, with a three-car automatic garage, remote-controlled gated entry, intercom and security system completing the offering. Substantial in scale and refined in execution, this is a residence where exceptional leisure facilities and lasting family comfort find an elegant balance.
