Where the Hills Meet Home

Step into a beautifully appointed 3 bedroom residence set in one of the area's most idyllic pockets. Fronting the Pine Island Nature Reserve with sweeping, uninterrupted views of the Urambi Hills from your own balcony, plus direct street access, this home offers all the space and privacy of a house, without the upkeep.

Downstairs, the open plan living area is bright, spacious and built for both everyday life and easy entertaining. It flows out to two courtyards, giving you real indoor-outdoor living. The kitchen is in the heart of the living area, with integrated European appliances, a 900mm gas stove and oven, stone benchtops and plenty of storage. To further evidence the thought-out design, adjacent to the living areas there is also a powder room, ideal for guests.

The clever split-level layout puts the main bedroom on the lower ground floor, giving you a private retreat away from the rest of the home. It comes with mirrored built-in robes and a beautifully finished ensuite with full-height tiling, floating vanity, and a bathtub. Head upstairs and you'll find two more bedrooms coming off of a flexible family room with its own covered balcony, adding a secondary, more private, living area. The main bathroom, also beautifully finished with a second bathtub, perfects the upper level.
