

11 Bass Gardens, Griffith

Exclusive Tranquil Living in Prime Inner South Location

A labour of love created without compromise, this remarkable Bass Gardens residence represents the meeting of two architectural minds across eras, resulting in one of Canberra's most distinctive and refined homes.

Perfectly positioned in one of Griffith's most desirable addresses, this residence enjoys an exclusive elevated location with panoramic views towards Mount Ainslie and Majura. The surrounding gardens are private and low-maintenance, with a resort-style pool and spa complementing the home's effortless indoor-outdoor connection.

Designed in 1939 by renowned architect Malcolm Moir, this home is a distinctive example of design from that era. A large pavilion extension and complete renovation of the original house by award-winning architect Philip Leeson in 2008 beautifully blend its heritage charm with modern luxury.

Inside, every element speaks of meticulous craftsmanship. Light-filled and north-facing, the main living space opens through bifold doors to a covered alfresco terrace complete with rain-sensing Vergola and BBQ gas point. Inside, elegant formal and casual living areas offer versatility and warmth, while original architectural features including open fireplace, custom door furniture and light fittings, celebrate the home's modernist heritage.

At the heart of the residence lies a professionally designed kitchen by Melbourne interior designer, Prue Gordon. Generous in scale and beautifully executed, it features a large central island bench, industrial-style benchtops, Miele and Bosch appliances, Qasair range hood, Jennair fridge/freezer, Blum hardware and abundant storage throughout. A walk-in pantry, glasses cabinet, overhead cupboards and soft-close drawers complete this superbly functional and stylish space.

Accommodation is thoughtfully zoned, with the main suite offering a luxurious private retreat designed for both comfort and sophistication. Bathed in natural light through its architecturally distinctive corner windows, the main bedroom features an expansive walk-in dressing room and a stunning ensuite complete with glass tile flooring, underfloor heating, bathtub and separate shower, a true statement in modern luxury.

The lower level caters perfectly to family living, featuring two bathrooms and three generous bedrooms with built-in robes, complemented by a central area with direct pool access. Two of the bedrooms enjoy serene pool views, while the third is positioned privately - ideal as a guest room or teenager's retreat. This level also includes a well-appointed laundry with ample storage and convenient external access, ensuring both practicality and style.

Every detail has been considered for comfort and efficiency, including underfloor hydronic heating, split-system reverse-cycle air conditioning, an 8-kW solar system with battery storage and a back-to-base alarm system. Additional features include a double garage, workshop and under-house storage, completing a home of exceptional substance and design.

Located within walking distance to Manuka Village, parks and leading schools, this is a rare opportunity to secure a piece of Canberra's architectural legacy - a home of substance, history and enduring design.
