Where the Sun Sets Over Yerrabi Pond

Apartments higher up in a building tend to feel a little different.

More light.
More privacy.
And a view that quietly reminds you where you are.

Positioned on the 10th floor of Tower B at 1 Anthony Rolfe Avenue, this two-bedroom apartment looks out across the parkland toward Yerrabi Pond. In summer the sunsets settle across the water, and in winter the north-west light brings a welcome warmth into the living space.

Inside, the layout is simple and practical. The living and dining area opens out to the main balcony, creating an easy connection between the apartment and the view beyond. The master bedroom has its own balcony as well.

Privacy blinds have been installed throughout the apartment, allowing natural light to filter in without feeling exposed to neighbouring buildings.
