room, timber deck with fire pit setting and a wide covered outdoor entertaining area.

- 400m to Helensvale State School, with Helensvale Plaza a 15 minute walk, Westfield Helensvale, the G:link tram and train station just beyond, and the M1 close at hand.

Inside, the elevated position does quiet work. Breezes move through, the light holds late into the afternoon, and the lounge sits beneath a wide bay window while the dining room slides straight out to the alfresco. The kitchen runs down the centre bright and open with stone benchtops, stainless-steel appliances and two pantry cupboards.

Out the back, a wide covered alfresco overlooks the glass-fenced pool, with an outdoor shower for rinsing off, and a private spa room for a touch of extra indulgence. A large timber deck rounds out the Gold Coast lifestyle, stepped up to a fire pit setting with plenty of level lawn for guests to spread out.

The detached retreat, with its own entry, walk-in robe, ensuite, and a tidy kitchenette adds versatility. Use it as a home office, guest suite, or teenager's quarters, its dual living potential is worth exploring.

Four bedrooms are finished with timber floors, built-in robes, ceiling fans and security screens, the master with its own ensuite, while the family bathroom pairs a full-size bathtub with twin basins. Solar panels, solar hot water, air conditioning, Crimsafe security doors, and a remote double garage finish up practical touches.

Helensvale State School sits 400m up the road and Discovery Park about 450m, so the school run and the after-school run are both done on foot. Reach Helensvale Plaza by 15 minutes on foot or two minutes by car, with Westfield Helensvale, the G:Link tram, and train station just a little beyond. The M1 sits close by when you need it, putting world-class theme parks and beaches within easy reach.
