The kitchen sits at the heart of the home, overlooking what is undoubtedly one of the property's standout features - the beautifully transformed outdoor courtyard. More than simply an alfresco area, this private oasis has been created as a genuine extension of the home. Elevated to capture refreshing breezes and remarkably private from surrounding properties, it's a setting made for long lunches, afternoon drinks, weekend entertaining or simply unwinding at the end of the day.

Beautifully established and ready to enjoy from day one, this is an outdoor space where new owners can immediately picture summer afternoons with friends, quiet morning coffees and countless memories still to come.

Back inside, both bedrooms are fantastic in size and feature built-in wardrobes and ceiling fans, offering comfortable accommodation without compromising on space. The single lock-up garage is complemented by additional driveway parking, providing two convenient parking options, while the side yard and landscaped approach further enhance the sense of space surrounding the villa.

Private, beautifully renovated and exceptionally well maintained, this is the kind of property that makes entering the Helensvale market easy. There are no major projects waiting, no immediate renovations required and no need to compromise on lifestyle - simply move in, unpack and enjoy everything that has already been created.

For first-home buyers, it represents an exciting opportunity to secure a home they can be proud of from day one. For investors, its low-maintenance nature, fantastic presentation and desirable single-level configuration make for an equally compelling proposition.
