surrounded by conservation, established greenery and local wildlife. It's a peaceful setting where you can sit by the water, enjoy the sounds of nature and appreciate just how private this acreage retreat really is.

The property has been thoughtfully established to remain lush and usable, with the large dam pumping water through an extensive irrigation system servicing approximately 2.5 acres around the home and gardens. This helps keep the grounds green, established and inviting while providing excellent water security for acreage living.

A Shed Built for More Than Storage

For the tradie, tinkerer, collector or home business operator, the impressive 11m x 17m shed with mezzanine opens up endless possibilities.

Spend hours working on projects, store machinery and equipment, create the ultimate workshop or take advantage of the property's access and infrastructure to operate a business from home. With three-phase power infrastructure, excellent vehicle access and two separate property entries, this is a setup that is difficult to replicate.

Get Your Green Thumb On

The massive greenhouse is another standout feature, offering incredible growing potential with power and water already connected and ready to operate.

Whether you're passionate about growing fresh produce, propagating plants or creating a productive garden on a larger scale, the hard work has already been done. Add the established lemon, lime, olive and banana trees, chicken coop and livestock yards, and you have the foundations for a wonderfully productive acreage lifestyle.

Renovated Home with Country Character

The high-set brick residence has been recently renovated while retaining the warmth and character expected from a country home. At its heart is the impressive renovated kitchen featuring 40mm stone benchtops, gas cooking and fridge plumbing, flowing into comfortable living spaces and out to the balcony.

The master bedroom features its own ensuite, built-in robes, air-conditioning and ceiling fan, while the additional bedrooms provide excellent accommodation for family and guests.

A dedicated library/home office creates the perfect space for working from home, while downstairs provides additional flexibility with another bedroom and bathroom.

Outside, entertain in the dedicated BBQ area or retreat to the enclosed spa and sitting room - the perfect place to unwind after a day spent enjoying the property.

Serious Water Security

Water is one of the property's greatest assets. With a large dams, extensive irrigation, four large water tanks and filtration infrastructure, the property has been designed with practical acreage living in mind.

The dam supports strategically positioned irrigation throughout approximately 2.5 acres surrounding the home and gardens, while the shed has its own water pump supporting the greenhouse.

Combined with 2 x 30,000L and 2 x 20,000L water tanks, water filtration and established irrigation infrastructure, this is an acreage property set up to work with you.
