

135/81 Kennedy Street, Kingston

Inner South living, done right. Light, space and a leafy outlook.

Kingston does not need much selling, but a good apartment on Kennedy Street does not come around often. This one sits in the Brighton complex on the quieter, leafy side of the street, with direct access from Kennedy Street and a tree canopy outlook that follows you from room to room.

Inside, the open plan lounge and dining sits at the front of the apartment, with both areas connecting to the balconies so the space never feels closed in. The kitchen has been very recently installed with brand new cabinetry, appliances, benchtops and tiling throughout. It is the kind of finish that makes the whole apartment feel new.

A wide hallway runs through the middle of the apartment, creating a natural separation between the living zone and the bedrooms. Both bedrooms are a good size, each with built-in robes, and the main bedroom has its own ensuite. The main bathroom sits centrally and services the second bedroom. Every window looks out into the tree canopy, giving the apartment a sense of calm that is rare to find this close to everything Kingston has to offer.
