Timeless Harbourside Terrace Living with Contemporary Comfort in the Heart of Millers Point

45 Kent Street, Millers Point presents a beautifully reimagined Georgian-style sandstone terrace forming part of a distinguished row dating back to circa 1865, blending timeless character with modern comfort. Spanning three generous levels, this three-bedroom home offers space, flexibility, and lifestyle appeal in one of Sydney's most tightly held harbourside pockets.

Inside, original period features pair seamlessly with contemporary updates to create a warm, inviting feel. A gracious living area with an original fireplace flows to a formal dining space, ideal for both everyday living and entertaining. The modern gas kitchen connects to a relaxed family zone and opens to a private flagstone courtyard, perfect for alfresco dining. Expansive windows throughout draw in natural light, enhancing the sense of space.

Accommodation is well proportioned across the upper levels, with three versatile bedrooms suited to families, guests, or a home office.
