

100 Maudsland Road, Oxenford

Five Acres of Freedom, with the Coomera River at Your Door

There are acreage properties that give you space, and then there are properties that change the way you live. Privately screened behind established fencing and vegetation, 100 Maudsland Road, Oxenford unfolds across approximately 5.5 acres of usable, lifestyle-rich land, culminating in an extraordinary 220 metres (approx.) of direct Coomera River frontage.

At its heart sits a mostly renovated Queenslander, where character has been retained and the important work has already been undertaken. Timber floors, high ceilings, VJ walls and French doors create the warmth expected of the style, complemented by a renovated kitchen and 2/3 bathrooms, air-conditioning and comfortable modern living. Importantly, there remains just enough opportunity for the next owner to add their own flair without having to start from the beginning.

Outside is where this property truly comes alive. Perched high on the hill, the expansive entertaining deck surveys the property towards the water and mountains beyond. Spend summer afternoons around the heated mineral pool, watch children explore the cubby house and grounds, keep horses or other animals within the established

Marketing agent Jayson Edwards says, "What makes this property special isn't simply the amount of land, it's what you can actually do with it. You can have the animals, the pool, the paddocks and the space for the kids, then walk down to your own stretch of the Coomera River for a swim, a fish or a paddle. From the elevated deck, looking across the water towards the mountains, it's remarkably easy to forget just how convenient the Oxenford location actually is."

For those searching for genuine acreage freedom without disconnecting from everything the northern Gold Coast has to offer, 100 Maudsland Road presents an increasingly difficult combination to replicate.
