

6 Carramar Place, Roma

Tri-Storey Residence in Prestigious Location

Presenting a distinguished residence of remarkable character, this tri-storey home stands as a testament to the craftsmanship of one of Roma's most respected local builders. Constructed in the 1950s with enduring solidity, this three-bedroom, two-bathroom property occupies a peaceful cul-de-sac within the bowls club district, where covenanted surroundings ensure lasting neighbourhood appeal.

From the moment you step inside, the architectural grandeur commands attention. Soaring vaulted ceilings with exposed beams create an extraordinary sense of volume, while expansive floor-to-ceiling windows bathe the interiors in natural light. The open-plan living space is nothing short of captivating, with warm timber features—including parquet flooring and vertical wood panelling—delivering charm and character that modern builds simply cannot replicate. Neutral tones complement these heritage elements beautifully, striking a refined balance between classic and contemporary.

The thoughtfully executed split-level design establishes defined zones for living and dining. It is the kind of home that rewards exploration, with each level revealing new dimensions and delightful surprises.
