Keep The Ball Roland

Tucked into a quiet court in the heart of Sheffield, this is a home that feels grounded, solid and genuinely liveable. Set on approximately 827m², the property provides a good amount of space without being overwhelming. This place has a great layout of around 128m² floor space, making it practical and well balanced, suitable for families, downsizers or investors looking for a dependable asset in a tightly held township. Inside, the living area is warm and inviting. Tasmania oak floorboards bring character and durability from the moment you enter the front door, while a wood heater creates a natural gathering point through the cooler months. A reverse cycle unit adds convenience and year round comfort. The kitchen has been modernised with generous storage and a functional breakfast bar, connecting easily to the designated dining space and main living space for everyday ease. The bedrooms are well proportioned, with updated carpet adding comfort underfoot. A spacious laundry provides additional storage and practicality, something buyers consistently value but often struggle to find. Outdoors is where this home continues to deliver. A large deck extends the living space and
