

70 Bannermans Access, Sherwood

BANNERMANS ACCESS

Sitting at the end of a secluded Lane Way approximately 10 minutes from town is your own little piece of paradise.

this picturesque block is approximately 26 acres in size with an amazing outlook and aspect to the North and West.

The cottage is like taking a step back in time with a colonial feel and you can experience the history, heritage, warmth and the nostalgia of a time gone past.

The house yard and gardens are landscaped by Jacaranda's and established trees, there are also machinery sheds and stock yards.

This could also be the blank canvas if you were wishing to build with the provision of several outstanding building sites that survey all that you own with an outlook across the paddocks and into the mountains beyond.

Small acreages like this that are so close to town, in a great location are becoming increasingly harder to find.

After years of living in Bannerman's access, age has now made the decision for the current owners to move on and this maybe the opportunity where you can make this one yours.
