the tone well before you reach the stairs.

Upstairs, light oak hybrid flooring runs through an open living and dining zone lifted by new LED downlights and soft white walls. The new kitchen holds its own here, pairing pale wood-look cabinetry and stone-look benchtops, a mosaic tiled splashback, and fitted out with brand new appliances and a deep bank of storage running along the wall.

Sliding doors open to the real centrepiece. Measuring 7.4 by 5 metres and laid with large-format stone-look tiles, the covered deck works as a second living room, with a built-in outdoor kitchen, stainless barbecue and drinks fridge along one wall and a ceiling fan overhead to keep entertaining comfortable year-round.

Beyond the balustrade, the outlook stretches over the yard towards distant ranges and the sunsets from here are worth the climb. Three carpeted bedrooms sit on the quieter side of the floorplan, each with built-in robes, a ceiling fan and its own split-system air conditioner.

The new bathroom is a standout, with a fluted feature wall, arched mirror, chic floating vanity, and a frameless walk-in shower.

Downstairs, a double lock-up garage with remote doors and a generous storage area takes care of the practical side, alongside an undercover patio and a level, fully fenced lawn with a garden shed.

As for the location, Slacks Creek puts schools, shopping, hospitals, rail and the motorway all within a short run of the front gate: * 850m Queens Road Shopping Village * 950m to Little Aussie Kids Early Learning Centre * 1.5km to Mabel Park State High School * 1.9km to Mabel Park State School * 2.4km Logan City Centre * 2.7km Logan Supercentre * 7 min drive to Griffith University (Logan) * 10 min drive to Hyperdome Shopping Centre * Pacific Motorway access only minutes away, with Brisbane's CBD around 29km north. Renovated, well held and set on a block with room to spare, this is a home that suits a growing family now and rewards a buyer with plans later.
