

21 Glider Crescent, Throsby

A Statement in Design and Lifestyle

A McDonald Jones display home executed at a level rarely seen.

Every element reflects a standard far beyond typical construction. Strong architectural lines, expansive proportions and a layout designed with precision create a home that feels both refined and effortless. The kitchen anchors the space with stone surfaces, premium appliances and a fully appointed butler's pantry, delivering both presence and performance.

The outdoor setting is where the home makes a statement. A full-scale alfresco cabana extends the living environment into a private, resort-style space designed for entertaining at a high level. Overlooking a striking plunge-style water feature, it delivers atmosphere, scale and a sense of luxury without compromise.

Accommodation has been equally well executed, with a privately positioned master suite and generously scaled secondary bedrooms, all finished with consistency and attention to detail.

This is a standard rarely achieved - and immediately recognised.
