Finally, A Home That Fits

Auction Location: On-site

Warm, light-filled and wonderfully flexible, 21 Bettie McNeen Street is a four-bedroom home on a separate title with plenty of room to live, work and grow. With two living zones, three private outdoor spaces and a double lock-up garage, it offers an impressive amount of space in a welcoming New Watson setting.

The Home

Natural light fills the downstairs living spaces, with two adjoining zones arranged around the central kitchen and divided by feature display shelving. This creates flexibility for separate lounge and dining areas while maintaining an open and connected feel.

The neat kitchen features a gas cooktop and a practical design that complements the home's inviting layout. private balcony, while the remaining two bedrooms both have built-in wardrobes and are serviced by the main bathroom.

The fourth bedroom is positioned downstairs and provides a level of flexibility not often found in terrace homes. Currently presented with a queen-sized bed, it works comfortably as guest accommodation but could just as easily become a home office, study or consulting space. Its position at the rear of the home also provides potential for access via the rear laneway and courtyard without interrupting the main living areas, making it particularly well suited to a small home business.

A separate toilet off the downstairs laundry adds further everyday convenience.

Outside

The home provides three private outdoor spaces: a courtyard at the front, a covered courtyard at the rear and the upstairs balcony adjoining the main bedroom.

The separate double lock-up garage is positioned behind the rear courtyard, with vehicle access from the laneway running behind the property. Solar panels, reverse-cycle air conditioning and excellent storage throughout complete a home that is practical, comfortable and ready to enjoy.

The Location

Bettie McNee Street has developed the kind of genuine community atmosphere that can be difficult to find - where neighbours know one another and people enjoy being part of the street.

Local schools, shops, parks and the broader Watson and Dickson precincts are all only minutes away. It is a convenient Inner North position with easy access to the light rail and Canberra's city centre.
