Tropical elevated living

- Sold from our extensive data base prior to being advertised.

Located at the end of a quiet court, there is no through traffic past this home. Established tropical gardens work well with the classic elevated style of this home and the narrow front of the block creates a private oasis. Being elevated, not only does the home catch the evening breezes there is also additional room under the home for parking and storage. A swimming pool also makes it easy to keep cool during the sweltering build up conditions.

Features include:

- Classic elevated design
- Swimming pool set amongst tropical gardens
- Extra parking under the home
- Solid timber floors
- Located at the end of a court

This is a great starter for someone or a great addition for an investment portfolio.
